BEFORE YOU BEGIN

- Identify all components by noting the labels on each box. The larger box contains the latex and your mattress casing, while the narrow box(es) contain the pocketed coil unit(s).
- The label on your latex box will identify the latex type (Dunlop or Talalay), feel (Soft, Medium, or Firm), and size.
- The label on your pocketed coil box(es) will identify the feel you selected (Plush or Firm), as well as the size.

TO ASSEMBLE

- Open your latex box and remove the mattress casing. (If you ordered a King or CA King, your mattress casing will most likely be in its own box.) Place the mattress casing on top of your foundation or platform bed, and unzip the top. Set the top aside.
- Open your pocketed coil box(es). The pocketed coil unit(s) are tightly rolled. It is helpful to place the box on its side and slide the pocketed coil unit(s) out of the box.
- Carefully remove the exterior wrapping with scissors. Please be gentle so you do not harm the fabric around the pocketed coil unit(s).
- Slowly unravel the coils on the floor. Make sure you have plenty of space!
- When picking up a coil unit, place your hands underneath the center of the coils and lift. Do not pull at the coil unit since this may cause the fabric to tear.
- Place the first pocketed coil unit on one side of the mattress, and repeat the process with the second coil unit. Gently adjust the pocketed coil unit(s) if necessary to make sure they are completely inside the casing. (For Twin, Twin XL, and Full sizes, there will be only one pocketed coil unit.)
- Time to move on to the latex! Place the layer(s) over the pocketed coil unit(s). Do not pull the latex or yank at the edges, as it may tear. Adjust the layer of latex so that it fits snugly in the casing. To adjust the latex: grasp the edge gently with both hands, lift and drop it in a smooth up-and-down motion (like a wave).

IMPORTANT: You may notice a subtle "rubber" scent. If you are sensitive to scents, we recommend the following: Assemble the mattress almost completely, but leave the zippered top portion off so that the latex can air out. Zip on the top portion of the casing when ready to sleep on your mattress.

- Place the top of the casing over the latex and align the zipper. Before you begin to zip the casing closed, pull down the inner flap so that it covers the latex. Make sure to zip the casing slowly to avoid catching edges in the zipper.

PLEASE NOTE

- The casing is NOT washable or dry-cleanable! Use a mattress pad to protect your mattress. We offer a cotton mattress pad as well as a wool mattress pad.
- Your mattress must be on a foundation or platform with slats no more than 2” apart. If your slats are more than 2” apart, we require a bed rug underneath your mattress to provide proper support and to meet the standards of our warranty.
